Ursuline Sisters: Their Spirit Lives

Many volumes have been written regarding the various religious orders and their vocations in this world, but very few ever deal with the individual orders in a personal manner. When discussing the Ursuline order, one must take a personal approach because each of the sisters is a unique person with unique ideas and talents which are reflected throughout Ursuline Academy. As Sr. Lois Bannon, president of Ursuline, said, "The sisters have created a certain happiness and spiritualness that they combine to form a loving atmosphere." Even though the sisters are not in daily contact with the students, as they once were in Ursuline's boarding school days, they remain today a prominent part of the school's existence. Several teach classes, such as Sr. Damien Flood and Sr. Sue Anne Cole while others work in various other positions; for example, Sr. Virginia Marie Killiam is the registrar, Sr. Helen Carey works in the treasurer's office, and Sr. Catherine Chandler is prioress in the convent. Those not in direct contact with the school still help to develop its atmosphere through their prayers and devotion. In order to maintain strong communications between the students and sisters, various activities are planned throughout the year. For example, on the Feast of St. Ursula many of the seniors spent an enjoyable afternoon over lunch with the sisters. Another activity was again a luncheon at the convent on the Feast of St. Angela Merici. The afternoon was spent recalling the past and present lives of the sisters and topped off with several games of bingo. This year a live-in weekend with the sisters has also been planned. Ursuline Academy has always been a high school for young women, but without the sisters of the Ursuline order, it would be just another school.

LEFT: The red berries surrounding Sr. Josephine are the first signs of spring about the campus. The beauty that results from her hard work and dedication is a pleasure for each. RIGHT: Would you ever guess that this nun, Sr. Teresa spends some of her spare time picking winning horses? She does not bet, but several of her horses win. Ellen Braithwaite is at a loss for words upon discovering this fact.

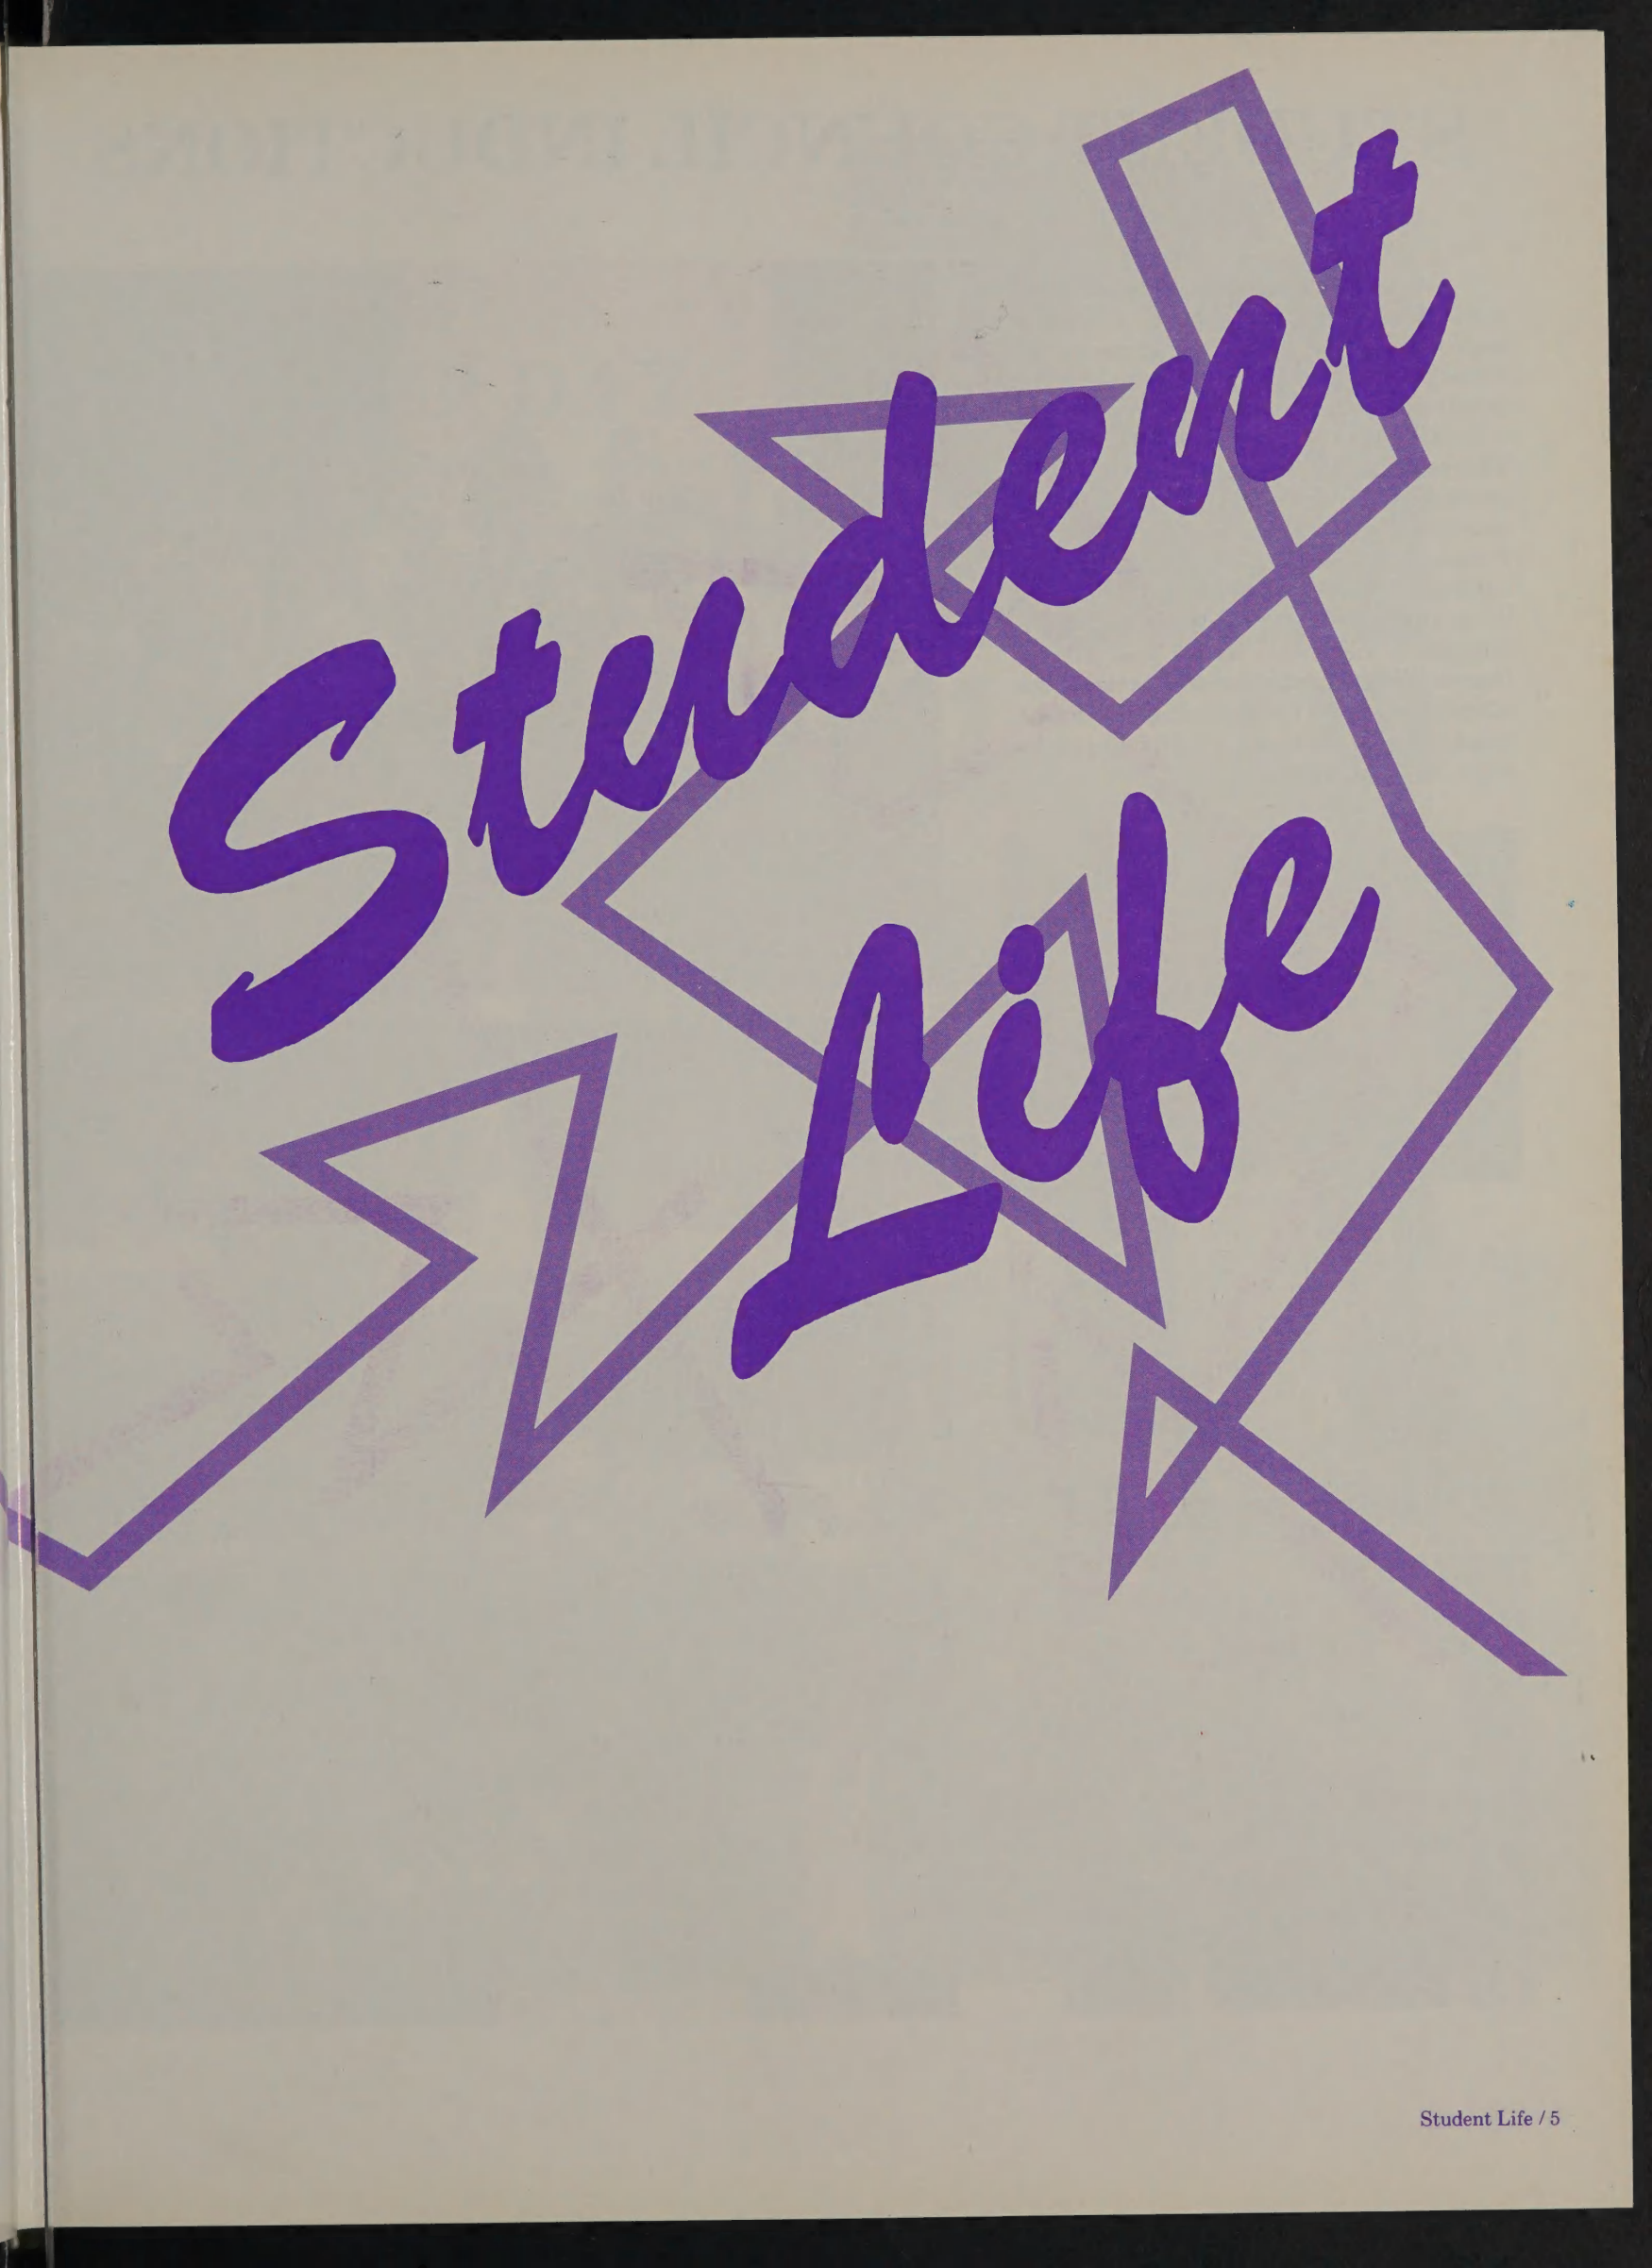

BACK: Rebecca Gutierrez, Sarah Kephart, Carmela Inga, Kim Mudge, Suzanne Greer and Glenda Rapalo share in the spirit of St. Angela's Feast day as they present the sisters with a cake.

LEFT: Ursuline girls are all grateful to Sr. Margaret for instigating the junior/senior prom. Sr. Margaret is currently the Admissions Director at the Academy. RIGHT: The President of Ursuline, Sr. Lois Bannon, diligently works behind her desk at St. Joseph's. Her tidy desk is complimented by a pink bear given to her by the Class of '87 in honor of St. Angela.

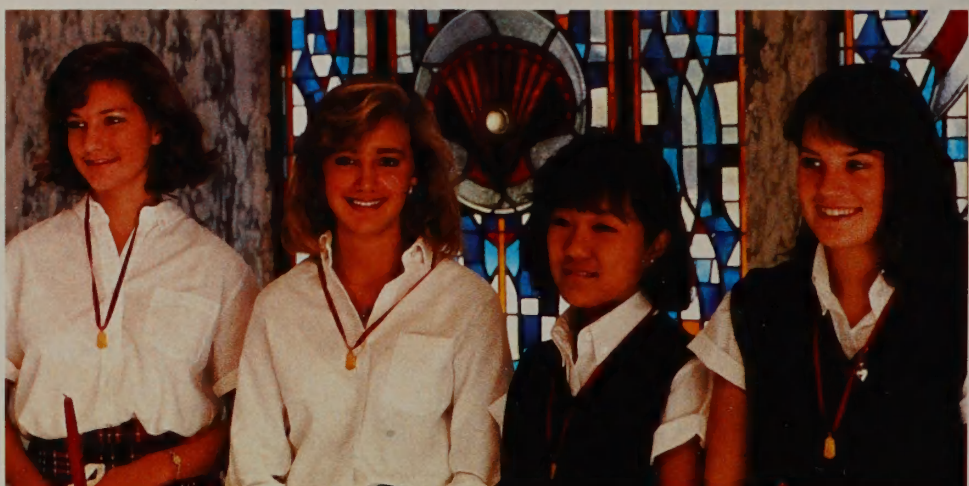

Student Life

STUDENT COUNCIL INDUCTIONS

As the Ursuline community gathered at St. Monica Church, the reality of being back at school was apparent. The mass served a dual purpose of welcoming the students and faculty back from summer vacations and the induction of the Student Council Officers. The induction of the officers and class representatives was performed by our new principal, Dr. Placke and Student Body President, Jennifer Salmon. After the inductions, Jennifer gave a speech welcoming the students and faculty and encouraging everyone to make this a terrific year. Father Deeves said the homily and the whole school offered prayers for the beginning school year. After mass, we all returned to Ursuline with a warm feeling of unity.

RANGER DAY

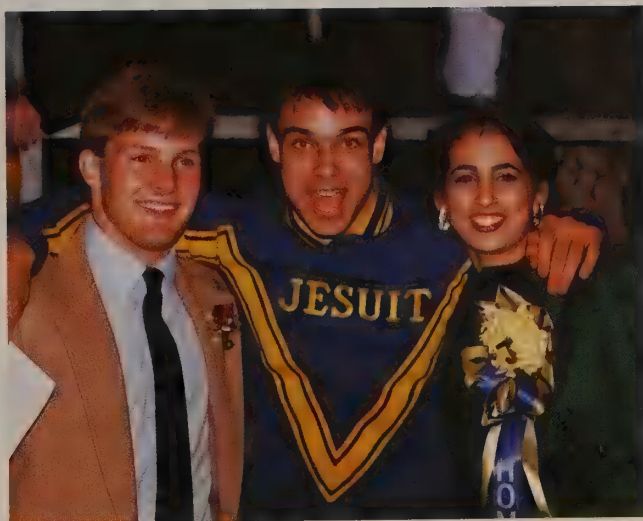

The annual Homecoming activities began with Ranger Day in Jesuit's gymnasium. The Jesuit Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders lead the students in a spirited pep rally accompanied by the Jesuit-Ursuline Band. The football team received a trophy from KISS 106 for "Team of the Week". The pep rally was continued in Haggard Stadium with the chariot races, a drillteam performance, and more band and cheerleader entertainment.

Homecoming began with the pre-game show at 7:30 p.m. The Jesuit Varsity Football Team gave a great show, defeating the Bishop Lynch Friars 51-0. Half-time marked the presentation of the Homecoming Court Claudia Fonts, Lara Rimes, Heather Glasgow, and Shannon Davis and the crowning of the queen, Karin Marshall.

After the game, alumni and students celebrated the festivities with a dance. The entertainment was provided by the up and coming group, "The Nurse", who played such tunes as "You've Lost That Loving Feeling" and "Guiana Punch". During a band break, the court was introduced and the ladies shared a waltz with their escorts. Altogether, the events were enjoyed by all who attended.

VOLLEYBALL

SENIORS, for the second consecutive year, captured the intramural games, winning all but one game. Dressed in blue and represented by their theme, "The Senior Zone", the Seniors had a very unifying and memorable final Volleyball Intramurals at Ursuline. Congratulations Seniors!

INTRAMURALS

JUNIORS caught everyone's eyes at Intramurals this year with their theme, "Catch the Wave". Their skit was amusing and they worked harder than ever in '86. Although no awards were won, the Juniors were the only class to beat the Seniors in a game. Well done, class of '88!

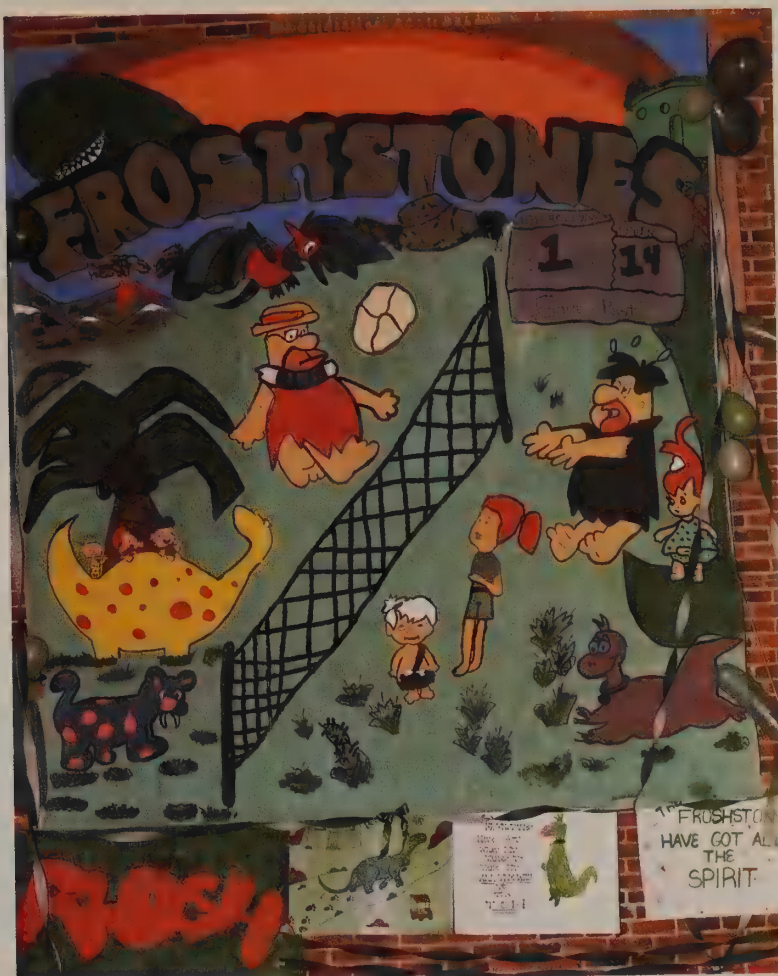

VOLLEYBALL

SOPHOMORES ruled the Intramurals of 1986 with their theme, "Soph-ari". Their clever idea won them the Best All-around Theme Award. The class of '89 also won the Spirit Award for the second year in a row. The Sophs really showed Ursuline their dedication at Intramurals this year. Way to go Sophomores!

INTRAMURALS

FRESHMEN experienced their first Intramurals at Ursuline this year. Their theme of "Froshstones" displayed the great spirit and creativity of the class. The Freshmen were initiated into Ursuline through their enthusiasm during Intramurals. Great things will come from the class of 1990.

SNOWBALL

The Seniors kicked off their holiday season with the annual Snowball dance. On December 20, 1986 the Seniors and their dates arrived at the Registry ready to dance the night away to the tunes of Supply and Demand. Later in the evening the court, consisting of Queen Stephanie Staubach and Princesses Becky Drucker, Laura Earls, and Sam Hall, was announced. The fun and excitement of Snowball fulfilled each girls expectations and will become one of the most cherished memories of Senior year.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

The Senior's Halloween Dance was attended by people of all grades who showed up to do the "Monster Mash". The costumes were creative and ranged from "Top Gun" to Raggedy Ann, but the favorite costume of the evening was the jungle look. Prizes were awarded for the best costume. Everyone was "treated" to a fun Halloween.

SENIOR CHRISTMAS PLAYS

This year's Senior X-mas Oz play, written by Eileen Henry, was quite entertaining. The play was a medley of fairy tales combining "Alice in Wonderland", "The Wizard of Oz", and "Peter Pan." The lead characters included S. Davis as Dorothy, S. Malone as the Cowardly Lion, E. Louis as the Tin Man, and M. Seeligson as the Scarecrow. Mrs. Flynn's drama class worked very hard for six weeks on the play. Santa Claus surprised everyone at the end with presents for all.

Mother Daughter Fashion Show

SENIOR RETREAT

This year Senior Retreat was held at Monserrat Retreat house. The seniors experienced a very special retreat because they shared many close and intimate conversations with teachers and friends. A very important person and caring friend, Sr. Peggy Busby, spent time with the girls. "Our Future as God's Women" was the theme of the retreat. For the seniors the last retreat was definitely their best.

JUNIOR RETREAT

This year Junior Retreat was held at Pine Cove retreat house in Tyler, Texas. The retreat was a great escape from the pressures that coincide with Junior year. Each Junior was given time to relax, to reflect on their spiritual life, and their future.

SOPHOMORE RETREAT

The Sophomore Retreat was filled with fun, love, prayer, and friends. It was held at the Christian Youth Camp near Athens, Texas. With emphasis on the sophomores, friends, and family relationships, the theme of the retreat was "Commitment." They involved themselves in activities, such as group talks, prayer services, and a chalk talk.

Freshman Retreat

This year's Freshman Retreat took place at Churchill Park. For the entire class it became a time of learning about themselves, one another, God, and the community around them. Its success showed in the smiling faces and the new found friendships.

Basketball Intramurals

Basketball Intramurals took place on February 18, 19 and 20. Throughout the afternoons each class was dressed according to their class color. On the evening of the Feb. 20, the Senior class hung their murals from their previous years at U.A. and preformed a skit representing their class and its memories. The skit was based on several seniors meeting in a supermarket years from now and reflecting on their various teachers. The games followed with the seniors victorious.

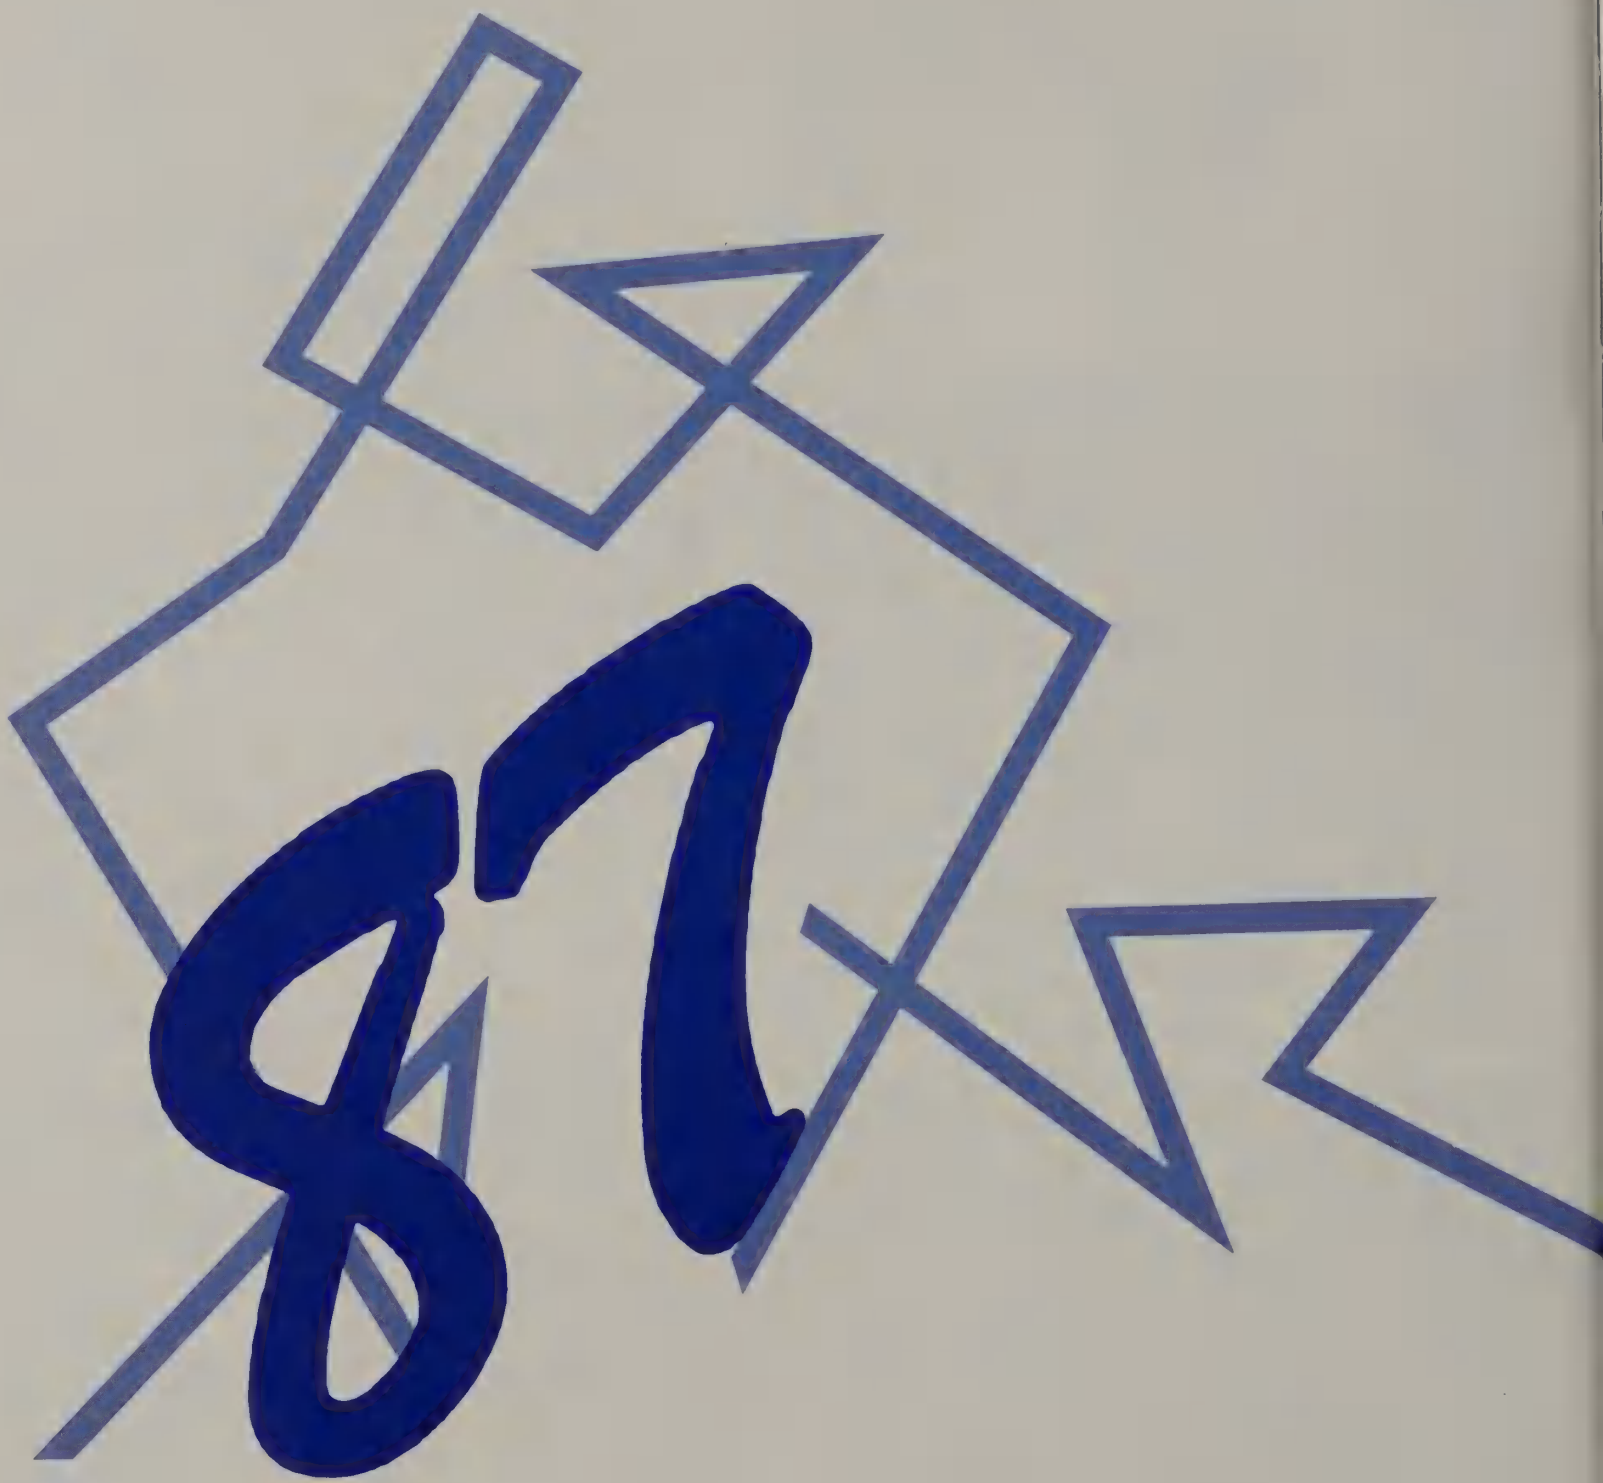

PROM 1987

After much conflict, the night of April fourth was chosen for Ursuline/Jesuit's Junior/Senior prom. On this day many of the students gathered at the downtown Hilton for dinner and dancing and a night of "Moonlighting". After the buffet dinner everybody enjoyed themselves dancing. Later in the evening Jenny Hill was crowned prom queen and she and her date began the dance and was later joined on the dance floor by princesses, Jennifer Salmon, Claudia Fonts, Kyllene Carter, and Ciji Ruud. The dance was officially over at 1:00 and many went out to "Moonlight" until daylight.

The background features a complex, abstract geometric design in a light blue color. It consists of several overlapping, elongated diamond or rhombus shapes. These shapes are further divided by diagonal lines that intersect at various points, creating a series of smaller, nested triangles and quadrilaterals. The overall effect is a dynamic, crystalline pattern that serves as a backdrop for the main title.

'Tis easy enough to be pleasant,
When life flows along like a song;
But the man worth while is the one who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong;
For the test of the heart is trouble,
And it always comes with the years,
But the smile that is worth the praise of the earth
Is the smile that comes through tears. Unknown

Where have all the good times gone? Or are they yet to be? The times of new found friendships and building memories. It seems like only yesterday we started highschool life. And now it seems in twice that time we could be someone's wife. We've slipped through green and yellow; we've passed through red and blue. And now it seems the time has come to bid farewell to you. One must sit and wander sometimes about a star. How can they seem so close, but yet so far? As high as can be, in Heaven they tower Upon them we make wishes, as if they have power. Something else an academic education will do for you. If you go along with it any considerable distance, it'll begin to give you an idea what size mind you have. What it'll fit and maybe, what it won't. After a while, you'll have an idea what kind of thoughts your particular size mind should be wearing. For one thing, it may save you an extraordinary amount of time trying on ideas that don't suit you, aren't becoming to you. In this wild game where the instructions aren't known, Don't let time pass you by, live life on your own. It may be weird, it may be strange, but always remember to stay the same. Times of happiness and times of joy, must overrule the times you want to destroy.

I dreamed that we were taking a walk on a boat but it wasn't a boat- it was like a house and the water was like the earth . . . everything was light; we could make everything into something else whenever we liked. When we saw a hill or a bit of earth . . . we knocked down a door or twisted it around or threw it in the water and the houseboat sailed on. Nothing could stop it. So we took doors off their hinges, took walls down and changed them over. We passed through caves and saw the sun fall in the sea and disappear. When it got dark I gathered stars and scattered them in the water. Then I stood on the tips of my toes, took down the moon, and hung it around your neck. Kassandra and the Wolf-Margarita Karapanov

SENIOR FARWELL ASSEMBLY

On May 12, 1987, the student body bid farewell to the Senior Class of 1987. Many tears were shed, but only the fond memories will be cherished. On this day the Merle Edward Scholarship was founded.

UNITY DAY

Once classes and exams were over the fun began for the seniors of 1987. To kick off the week of graduation and all of the excitement that accompanies it, the seniors joined together for a final prayer service at Ursuline filled with symbols of the past four years. Then everyone drove to Canyon Creek for an afternoon of recreation and relaxation. While the sun did not cooperate until noon, that did not stop the class of '87 and their teachers from playing kickball, swimming, and sliding down the giant slide. Soon after the sun came out it was time to reminisce with songs from soph. retreat and a slide show. Once the superlatives were announced it was time to go home.

GRADUATION PRACTICE

GRADUATION DAY

The commencement exercises for the 113th graduating class of Ursuline Academy took place on May 24, 1987. After threats of rain all day, the evening turned out to be beautiful. Family and friends of the graduates joined the faculty, and Bishop Tscheope to celebrate this joyous occasion. The Valedictorian award was presented to Odile Meister and the Salutatorian award was presented to Patricia McGraw. Jennifer Salmon was honored with the Sister Emmanuel Award for service and Elizabeth Shopbell was given the Sades Saepientiae Award. The entire class sang "Friends Forever" written by Nancy Hunt.

Juniors

The background of the page features a series of overlapping, hand-drawn geometric shapes in a light red or pink color. These shapes include rectangles, triangles, and lines that intersect to form a complex, abstract pattern. The word "Juniors" is written in a large, bold, red cursive script, slanted upwards from left to right, positioned over the geometric background.

JUNIOR FRESHMAN PICNIC

The Juniors and the Freshmen wrapped up a week of getting to know each other with a picnic at St. Joseph's. The Juniors made their little sister's lunch and dressed them in typical picnic attire. Several contests were held such as cutest, most original, best, and most green costume. All gathered to say good-bye by singing "I'll be There" by Michael Jackson. The picnic was a great success and many new friendships were made because of this event.

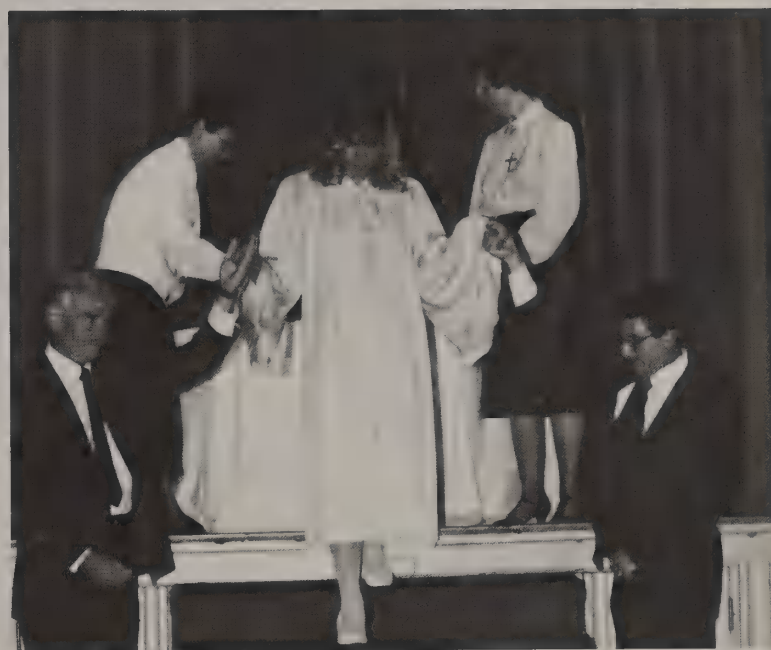

Junior Ring Ceremony

Junior ring ceremony was held on May 7, 1987 in the Ursuline Gym. The Junior class opened the ceremony by singing the "Star Spangled Banner." Speeches were given by junior class President Marli Maloney and Vice President Diana Morris. After everyone received their ring, the juniors closed the event by singing the Ursuline Alma Mater. This ring is a cluster of symbols representing truth, courage, Christianity, and the founders of the Ursuline order.

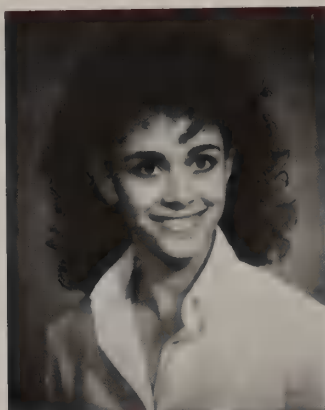

Sophomores

The background of the page features a complex, abstract geometric pattern in a golden-yellow hue. This pattern is composed of several overlapping triangles and intersecting lines, creating a sense of depth and movement. The lines vary in thickness and orientation, some forming sharp points while others create more elongated, rectangular shapes. The overall effect is a modern, minimalist design that complements the title.

Sophomore Serviam

On the morning of October 8, the seniors gathered with the sophomores for Serviam. Father Deeves celebrated the mass, and the seniors presented the sophomores with their Serviam medals on a bright yellow ribbon. The service was closed with a hymn from the concert choir. Following mass the sophomores were given a breakfast and all of their parents were invited. It was a wonderful day for the sophomores to pledge their service to Ursuline Academy and the seniors to remember past times.

SPRING FLING

Sophomores celebrated the beginning of Spring by following in the tradition of Spring Fling for the third year. What better way to begin the season of romance than to dance the night away with the date of the girls' choice. Many of the sophomores began the evening by treating their date to dinner. Following dinner, they spent the final hours of the night in the Ursuline Haggar Center with a semi-formal dance.

FRESHMAN INDUCTION

The Freshmen were officially accepted into the Ursuline Community on October 13, 1987 by the Seniors. Each Senior was given a "Freshman Friend" and sat with her during the assembly. The opening prayer was given by Senior class Vice-President Becky Drucker and was followed by Senior class President Sam Hall. Sam's speech was very cute and told the Freshman what to expect in the years to come at Ursuline. Each Senior then pinned her friend with a cross embedded in a rainbow. The induction ended with a breakfast of donuts and juice in Haggar Center. This was a wonderful alternative to the previously known Senior Week, and a good time was had by all.

SADIE HAWKINS

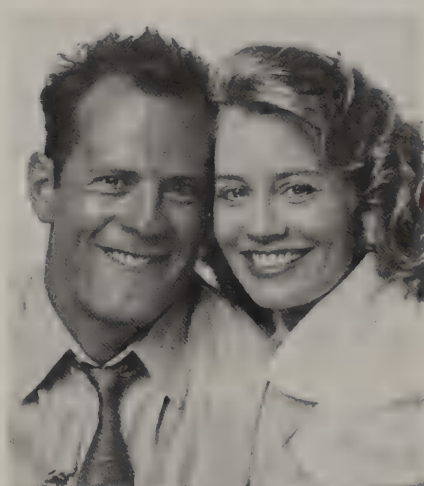

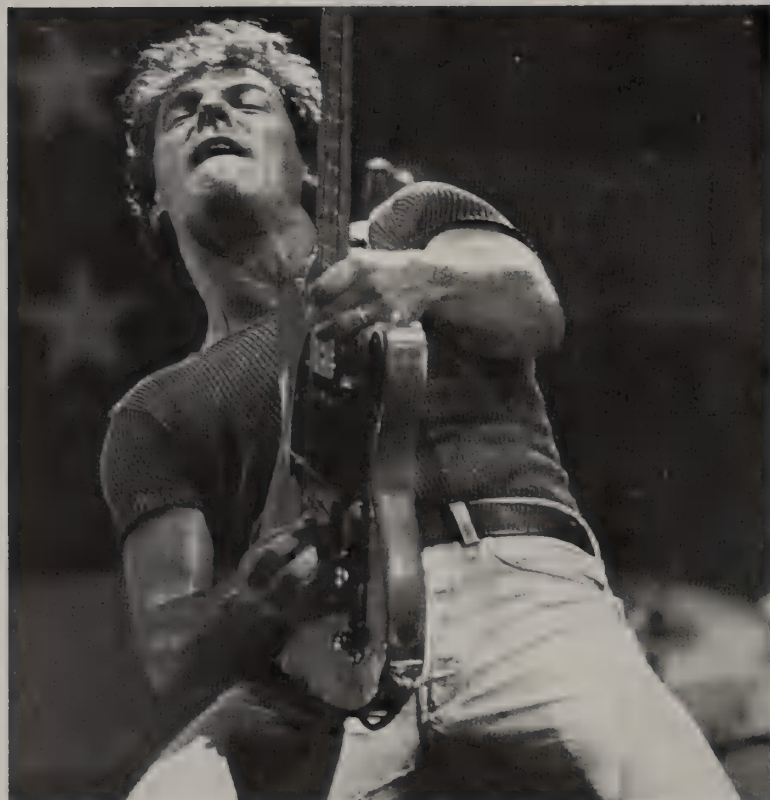

Sadie Hawkins was held on February 14, 1987. The theme was "Almost Paradise" and was sponsored by the Freshman. The girls followed in the tradition by asking boys to the dance. It was a semi-formal event and music was provided by Corbin Doyle. Dinner and dancing led to an evening that was "Almost Paradise."

The background of the page is a light cream color. Overlaid on this is a large, abstract geometric pattern in a vibrant orange-red hue. The pattern consists of several overlapping triangles and intersecting lines of varying lengths and orientations, creating a complex, crystalline structure that resembles a stylized molecular model or a network diagram. The lines are thick and the overall effect is one of dynamic, interconnectedness.

Latin Club

The Latin Club led by Mrs. Priest participated in several activities this year including the language masses. Their entire mass was read in Latin and songs were sang. At the Latin Banquet held in April the upper classmen were dressed as gods and auctioned the freshman off as slaves. Members also participated in the T.S.J.C.L. and State Latin Competitions and won several awards.

Throughout the year bakesales were held. Croissants, quiche, onion soup, and chocolate mousse were among some of the foods sold. Many of the members traveled to San Antonio to compete in the French Symposium at which first place was won. This year many members also were able to host boys and girls from France for several days while they played in the orchestra. Slumco Slumco is a fairly new club organized by Jenna Jaeb. Its members are those interested in helping other students with the vast array of problems teenagers experience during high school. For several months the girls and guys (from Jesuit) made up and practiced skits dealing with drugs, alcohol, stress, peer pressure, and suicide. They performed these at school and at All Saints Church. Also, they asked several speakers to come and talk to students about these problems.

The primary purpose of the Bear Boosters is to inform the student body of schedules of games for the athletic teams. Bear Boosters maintain a bulletin board outside the media center with announcements of all upcoming games and results of past games. The girls have held fund raisers including bake sales, spirit bands, and a raffle. This club has brought much spirit and support to the athletics of Ursuline.

Dear Jennifer,

Only a daughter can bring so many joys which grow deeper and richer through the years. As a little girl, she charms everyone with smiles, giggles and curiosity. Little girl hurts are soothed in the loving arms of her parents.

As a daughter grows, she becomes still a greater joy, a special friend to talk to, to rely upon, and to help through good times and bad. Through the years, (especially these last three) she is always a source of great family pride because of her efforts and successes, her thoughtfulness and sharing. Only a daughter is all this and more — only a daughter like you!

Love,
Mom and Dad

Jenn,

I'm so glad I have a big sis. You're like one of my friends. I can tell you anything and trust you. Thanks for being there when I needed you, and I'll always be there for you. Congrats!!! Have fun in college!

Some pad quietly, silently
Through their teens, rubbing
Against the door jambs, stretching
Onto the carpets not
Disturbing a person or thing.

Others explode onto the field
Like great, graceful deer,
Breaking from easy cover
To race your eyes across
A sunrise. They quicken your wit
And startle your pulse back to life.

Oh, Sage: Intense, bright and fun —
Blessed with good friends —
Run safe, run strong, run true.
